       8th and F streets N.W.

Author and former First Lady Rosalynn Carter will discuss and then autograph her latest book Within Our Reach: Ending the Mental Health Crisis at the Smithsonian’s National Portrait Gallery in the Robert and Arlene Kogod Courtyard on Friday, May 7, from noon to 1:30 p.m. Within Our Reach is an insightful, unsparing assessment of the state of mental health care that uses stories from Carter’s 35 years of advocacy to discuss the larger issues at hand. In it, Carter crafts an intimate and powerful account of a subject previously shrouded in stigma and shadow, surveying the dimensions of an issue that has affected everyone.

Those who would like to attend may preorder copies of Within Our Reach by calling the museum store at (202) 633-5451 from 11:30 a.m. to 7 p.m. daily. Books maybe picked up after April 27. Positions in the signing line will be determined by the number on cash-register receipts.

No memorabilia; no posed photos.

The Smithsonian reserves the right to limit signing for books brought from home.
